

Guiding, developing and challenging a future generation.

College Student Motivates Camp Project

Earlier this year, Kaelee wrote me, seeking to do something for God this summer. I mentioned the possibility of coming to Mexico. Kaelee took that suggestion and went to her church and began the process of recruiting a team to come help us out with camp.

Kaelee wrote, "I really, really, really want to go to Mexico and see how you guys work! It's no fun being excited about something, and all your friends just look at you like, 'Wow, you're on crack.'"

"I don't understand how God works, but I feel God guiding me in the direction of camp development after I graduate. I have been planning on going to the [Kamp] Kanakuk Institute once I graduate, and have been thinking about camp development for...not quite a year now, but after talking to you all about what RYCCA does, I'm excited about it, and I love children, and... yeah, I'm just so excited! Camp development is such a dynamic way to reach people, and David's vision for RYCCA is outstanding! All you need is people to catch the same vision, back you up, and run with it. 100 camps in Mexico is such an exciting goal, and I believe that it can happen.

"Anyway... God is amazing to me... I'm so excited about what he's doing in my life, and how he will continue to use me. After all, that's what I'm here for."

Tickets have been bought. Kaelee's first recruit arrives in May. Two teams will follow in June and July. The teams plan to do a VBS/sports camp at the Los Domos site in Central Mexico.
